Date: June 3, 2023

Location: HNB Garhwal University

Participants:

Workshop facilitators

Students and faculty members of HNB Garhwal University

Summary:

A highly informative and engaging Workshop on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) was organized at HNB Garhwal University. The event aimed to raise awareness and provide valuable insights into the importance of intellectual property protection in the academic and research community.

The workshop commenced with an inaugural address by the chief guest Dr. Aparna Sharma, Senior Scientific Officer, UCOST, followed by the Program Coordinator Prof. Manjula Rana, Dean Student Welfare Prof. Mahavir Singh Negi., who emphasized the significance of intellectual property in fostering innovation and driving economic growth. He highlighted the need for researchers, faculty members, and students to understand the intricacies of intellectual property rights and how to protect their work.

They covered a wide range of topics related to intellectual property, such as patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets. The speakers discussed the process of obtaining and enforcing intellectual property rights, the benefits of IP protection for individuals and organizations, and the potential challenges and legal issues that may arise.

Throughout the day, participants had the opportunity to engage in interactive sessions, ask questions, and seek guidance from the experts. The workshop also included case studies and practical examples to illustrate the application of intellectual property rights in various fields, including science, technology, arts, and literature.

The event attracted a diverse audience, including students, faculty members, researchers, and professionals from academia. The participants expressed their gratitude for the workshop, as it provided them with a comprehensive understanding of intellectual property rights and equipped them with valuable knowledge to protect their creations and innovations.
