Subject: Establishment of the YUKTI Innovation Repository at HNB Garhwal University

We have successfully established the YUKTI Innovation Repository at HNB Garhwal University. This initiative demonstrates our commitment to fostering innovation and driving forward advancements in various fields. We aim to leverage the platform provided by IIC to collaborate with talented individuals, share innovative ideas, and contribute to the overall growth and development of the university ecosystem. The YUKTI-NIR is a comprehensive platform designed to showcase and promote innovative projects, research, and initiatives from various institutions and individuals across the country. It serves as a repository of cutting-edge ideas, technologies, and solutions, fostering collaboration, knowledge sharing, and networking among innovators, academia, industry, and government bodies.

Through YUKTI-NIR, we aim to accelerate the pace of innovation in India and contribute to the nation's growth and development.
